THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Hamilton, a Presbyterian Minister, Paints a True Picture of It.

The Oakland (Cal.) News reports the following portion of a sermon delivered in the Independent Presbyterian Church, of that place, by Rev. Mr. Hamilton: "We are compelled to own that this old Mother Church shows an astonishing vitality. More than half Christendom still bows at her altars. The common people still cling to her robes. Through justious storms that leave the seats of our protestant sanctuaries nearly vacant, we see them crowding to her worship, morning, noon and night. Wherever a few of her children make their homes, a cross surmounted church will soon be seen. She builds wisely to meet convenience among the poorest communities, to win authentic culture wherever wealth creates such a taste to be pleased. And her people pay for her churches.

"Her missionaries are always crowding to every heathen country and among the great populations of India and China number their converts by scores for every one that Protestants can count as the fruits of their labors. No degree of possible self-sacrifice demanded by their work turns them back. No danger appals them. Wherever she gains a foothold she speedily erects the university, the college and the seminary as well as the church, and wins thousands of the sons and daughters of other religions, and even to Protestants, by the superior appliances with which she furnishes them. And close by the side of her school and church you will soon see her asylums for indigence and misfortune spring up. She is also a gentle and tireless nurse of human pain. Where the pestilence moves its deadliest swath of human lives there you will see her Sisters of Mercy and Father Confession, never shrinking from the touch of the plague and never leaving the field of remitting their ministrations of care till the scourge departs or death discharges them. And many a good priest has evinced his sincerity as well as his courage by going into the battle field where death lies the thickest that he might give the comfort and hopes of his religion to the dying.

"We sometimes hear it said that the whole system of Romanism is a shell, without a heart, substance or spiritual life, that the masses are duped by its false pretenses, and its leaders know it is hollow. We shall never deal wisely with the evils in any great power which millions of human hearts love and trust and find comfort in until we learn to do it justice. We know that men do not endure half a century of voluntary pain and sacrifice for what is in their eyes a transient sham.

"Millions of thirty souls, generation after generation, do not rush to a fountain which has long ago run dry. When human hearts are seeking eternal life they do not hold it cheap as to take up with a potent counterfeit. Catholics find some deepest want of soul in their Church, or they would turn away from her as a false mother.

"The judgment of charity is beginning to supersede the judgment of prejudice upon her. The tone of Protestant utterances respecting her value is rapidly changing. The Atlantic Monthly not long ago sent forth an appreciative article that fully conceded her merits. The Rev. Thomas K. Beecher followed with words of high commendation. The Rev. Mr. James, in his sermon lately at the installation of Dr. Rexford, in San Francisco, noticed the place she fills among the religious organizations of Christendom in the same tone. And let within the week past comes to us the Christian Union, one of the most widely circulated and powerful papers of Protestantism, bearing this sentence: 'With all respect for the earnestly religious among the old Catholics and the Continental Protestants we judge that the Church of Rome contains by far the greater part of the living spiritual faith that exists on the continent of Europe.' Testimony could hardly say more.

"Whereas the fact of this great strength? One short sentence gives the answer. That church has come to fixed conclusions. In doctrine and practice her mind is made up. It is not doubtful, she has the stability and force of the single mind. Her ritual is one for all the world—for the pope at Rome and for the Digger Indian in California. The very sound and accent of its words are the same. No thought of innovation is tolerated for a moment. There is no debate over methods. The preliminaries of work are all settled. All hesitation is cut off. There is nothing to be done but the work. And what that is was decided ages ago—to extend and preserve the church as she is. Each member soon learns his part. Age after age the command goes forth from the triple crowned head at Rome. The whole mighty organism, from the scarlet Cardinal to the rag picker in the street, moves responsive to that command.

Red complexion indicates an unhealthy state of the system. Dr. Wilt's Little Early Risers are pills that will correct this condition. They act on the liver, they act on the stomach, they act on the bowels. Short & Haynes, Cloverport, and Beard & Beeler, Hardinsburg.

Rev. L. B. Davidson, of Smithland, will preach at the Falls of Rough May 3, near where he was converted years ago. Rev. Davidson is now in his eightieth year and has been a member of the Louisville Conference for over fifty years.

Mrs. Henry Specks died near here a short time back. She had in grippe and has also been troubled with heart disease for sometime. She was a member of the Catholic church. She leaves a husband and six children. We sympathize with them in their bereavement.

The funniest thing last Sunday was when a certain couple entered the church. The lady stopped at the center of the house and the gentleman did not notice until he got to the front seat. He true a snail illuminated his face, but "let" was clearly written on his countenance.

Mr. George Moore, of whom we made mention last week did not have his limb amputated until the 23rd. The next day at 3 p. m. he ceased his suffering and went to enjoy "the rest that remaineth to the children of God." The next day his brother-in-law, Mr. Stone, held services, after which the burial took place. Mr. Moore was a son of Mr. Harold and brother of Mrs. Cannon of this place. Mr. Moore was a good man in every respect, a perfect christian and devoted member of the Baptist church. He leaves a wife and eight children to mourn their loss. We sympathize with them, but rejoice that the "sorrow not as those who have no hope." His testimony was that he was "going home to heaven."

TOB RYAN.

CLOVERPORT, KY., May 1st, 1883.

To MY FRIENDS:—After spending a week in town on one of my protracted grees I was prevailed upon to try the Bi-Chloride of Gold Cure, and in the excitement I entered the Institute at 2 p. m., Saturday, and am proud to say that I have never more enjoyed than when I have had enough of it.

Yours truly,

JOHN PIERCE.

CLOVERPORT, KY.—To MY FRIENDS: This is to certify that I have been in the Sprague Bi-Chloride of Gold treatment for the past four days. I have drunk liquor for the past twenty years to excess, but after taking Dr. Laumann's treatment for the above length of time I can say that I now have no desire for any kind of intoxicating liquor. There is no humbug about this. It has been a God send to me and I hope it will be to many other people who are in the same fix that I was in, before treatment, given under my hand this the 1st day of May 1883.

Mr. F. P. Hagood, bridge superintendent for the Texas, has presented Clarence Keith, the marble cutter, with a fine mallet. The Cloverport City election Monday afternoon, as follows: Continuation in the First Ward—Henry Solberg, R. B. Pierce, Second Ward—F. S. Miller, W. G. Stuart and F. J. Ferry. But one member of the old council, R. B. Pierce, was re-elected. These are all live, progressive men and it is thought that the good work begun in the last year will be completed, besides we will probably have better roads and street lights.

Cloverport escaped another big fire last Friday by a mere scratch. Just while the guests of the Cloverport Hotel were seated at dinner the kitchen roof was discovered to be on flame, and the flames of fire were immediately extinguished. The citizens responded promptly and by the hardest work the building was saved. The kitchen roof was entirely destroyed, incuring a loss of about $50. Had the hotel burned it would have been impossible to save several other buildings.

The worst runaway smashup that has occurred in Cloverport for quite a while occurred last Saturday evening. Lige Gibson, turned the post-office corner with a large wagon load of furniture, and started toward the bridge. From some cause his team became frightened and soon became unmanageable. They dashed over the bridge and across the bridge at a rapid rate. At the West end of the iron bridge they met Frank Fraize's delivery wagon loaded with flour, and dashed into it, knocking the horse down, demolishing the wagon and sending it all over the street. As the furniture wagon went over Fraize's horse it was upset and the whole load of furniture was dumped out the front of Long's butcher shop. Two sewing machines, a bedstead, were broken into a thousand pieces. In fact the only thing that got away was the plate glass mirror to the dresser, which was found and some of the bottom of the wreck with a 150 pound trunk on top of it. The drivers of both teams, when they saw that the collision was inevitable, jumped and saved their lives.

The fog last week led into effect Monday, and up to yesterday afternoon there had been but one prisoner in the pound. One old experienced murderer, of the ridge-creek type, duties the law and will not be captured. His hands are around the depot where he can get into all kinds of palatable fright. Yesterday all the kids in town tried to chase him down with a large wagon load of furniture and gave them the slip and is still at large.

G. W. Roth, a fireman on the "Texas" road has invented a gasoline engine that is supposed to be the best yet been in use. He has been to Washington and made application for a patent and has associated with him a gentleman of means at Terre Haute, Ind. Large machine shops are now being erected in that city, for the sole purpose of manufacturing these engines, and they will be ready for operation in a couple of months to apply for a patent. This engine will be used for running threshing machines. As a twelve horse-power gasoline engine will only weigh about 150 pounds they are destined to speedily take the place of the heavy steam engines now in use. Mr. Roth was here last week receiving the congratulations of his many Cloverport friends. His invention will no doubt yield a large fortune.

COMING WARM
weather is now close at hand and many men and boys will have to change from their winter suit to one more seasonable. All such can not do better than to us direct. If we can not please them in "our own make" they can't be suited at all. The goods are what you want and so are the prices.

"OLD RELIABLE" CLOTHIERS,
COR. THIRD AND MARKET STS., - - - LOUISVILLE, KY.

Ed. Gregory will start out with Sulzer's free show next week. He has many new views of the town, among which are many illustrating Cloverport and her industries. The people of Breckinridge and Meade counties, who are not familiar with Cloverport, can by going to these entertainments have an opportunity of seeing our city in sections. There will be various views of the several brick plants, machine shops, streets, the incubator, the Bank-exchange, News office and other important buildings.

Picked Up.
Z. T. Cox is doing a successful business here. He likes the people and he people like him.
Johnnie Hoben, a Hardinsburg boy, has stepped into a nice business at Ekron. The style of the firm is Kay & Hoben. They carry a general stock of merchandise and are doing a nice business. Johnnie has made a fine impression on the good people of the place judging from the many complimentary remarks made about him. The News is glad to add its testimonial to his many good qualities.

Blant Shacklette, one of the large fruit growers of Meade, says he has plenty of early apples, but very few late ones. Late apples seem to be a failure all over that section.
Dr. Willet has placed the News under obligations to him for a pleasant drive from Ekron to Guston. The doctor is one of the moving spirits of that thriving town and his particular hobby now is the new college building. He thinks the enterprise will be a success.

Charles Bryant, of Brandenburg, has located at Guston and opened up a general stock of merchandise in the store-house formerly occupied by Mr. Leonard. Mr. Bryant is not a stranger to Guston people and the News predicts for them a good trade from the start.
Rev. D. W. Herring, a missionary from Cloverport, will give a lecture in the Baptist church at Irvington next Sunday at 10 o'clock a.m. Everybody invited.

The Baptist Missionary meeting held at Irvington last Sunday was one of the most enjoyable events it has been our pleasure of attending in a long while. Despite the rain and storm there was a large attendance of visitors from every section of this and the surrounding counties. There is not a more hospitable people in this land than the good people of Irvington, and the stranger within her gates is made to feel that it is good to be with them. Use of the pleasant features of the day was the presentation of a handsome suit of clothes to the pastor, Rev. Crocker. It was a gift from his members and came as quite a surprise to him. Rev. Crocker is an excellent pastor and well beloved by all his members.

The colored church at Irvington suffered a very heavy loss in the blowing down of their house of worship. It was a new building only partly completed and the loss is a serious one to them.
A Cloverport "Boy" Abroad.

Ex-Governor Thomas T. Crittenden was in Columbia Friday the guest of Col. E. C. More. Gov. Crittenden will leave in a few days for Mexico to which country he has been appointed consul general. The position is one of great commercial importance and the new appointee was gladly the recipient of all the commendation that Col. More, the former consul-general, could give him regarding his duties. Gov. Crittenden is still the handsome, courteous gentleman as in the old days when he occupied the executive mansion at Jefferson City. Age has given him hair a grayer tinge but one would not guess within ten years of the truth as to his age.—Columbia Missouri Herald.

To All Whom It May Concern.
Covington, Ky., April 29th, 1905.
This is to certify that I have been afflicted for near two years to cancer, when I fortunately heard of J. R. Mitchell, of Moolsville, Breckinridge county, Kentucky, as being a successful handler of that dread disease. I placed myself under his treatment, and he has effectually cured me. I would say to all persons afflicted with cancer to apply to him at once. For the proof of the validity of my statement, I will say that my cancer is preserved in alcohol and is now on exhibition at A. R. Fisher's drug store, in this city.
Mr. Mitchell is a prominent merchant and is well known to be a reliable gentleman.

Yours Very Respectfully,
JOHN GIBSON, JR.

Lusk-Keith.

The Pretty Wedding of Miss Jennie Keith to W. A. Lusk.

Another One of Cloverport's Best Girls Gone.

One of the prettiest weddings that has lately occurred in Cloverport was that of Miss Jennie Lallest Keith and Mr. Wm. Arthur Lusk. The ceremony was performed last Wednesday, April 26th, at 10 o'clock a.m. at the residence of the bride's parents, the Rev. W. P. Bacon, of the Louisville Seminary, officiating. Only near relatives and a few friends were present.

The bride is the daughter of J. E. Keith, proprietor of the Cloverport Marble works, and well known all over the county. She is quite a favorite in society and is an accomplished and lovable lady. The groom is a young Baptist minister of a prominent West Virginia family.

The happy couple started on the 10 o'clock train for Central City, W. Va., which place they will make their home. Many costly and beautiful bridal presents were received from the relatives and friends of both bride and groom.

Milner-Richardson.
Prominent Young People of Union Star are Married in Louisville.

People Are Taken by Surprise.

The Louisville Commercial gives the following account of the wedding:
"Mr. William L. Milner, of Union Star, Breckinridge county, Ky., and Miss Lena Richardson, of the same place, were married in the parlors of the Phoenix Hotel last evening by Rev. Dr. T. Eaton. What lends a little romance to the marriage is the young couple decided rather suddenly to be married. They have been engaged for three years. Mr. Milner has, however, been pursuing his medical course in this city. Yesterday Mr. R. C. Richardson and his mother and sister came up from Union Star on a shopping expedition, and the young folks decided to be married immediately.

Mr. W. L. Milner is a son of Dr. Milner, of Union Star, and a prominent young man. Miss Richardson is a sister of Mr. E. A. Richardson, of the Main street wholesale clothing house, Hupp & Richardson, of this city. Both families are wealthy, and among the highest society circles of Breckinridge county."

WATKINS-MCCORKLE.
Mr. Alfred A. Watkins, of Paducah, Col., and Miss Mildred McCorkle were married last Wednesday, April 26th, at Carrollton, Mo., just a few miles from the groom's home in a Cloverport boy, one of the best Breckinridge families, and his many friends here are glad to know of his happy union. The bride is a beautiful and accomplished member of a prominent Missouri family, well known throughout the State. The happy young couple arrived in Cloverport last Friday evening and are now the guests of Thos. M. Watkins and Mrs. R. E. Moorman, brother and sister of the groom. They will remain here several days before starting for their Western home.

In Memory of Mrs. Calvin Brandenburg, Who Died April 28th.
Weep not husband for your loved one has gone from this mortal earth. She is waiting, only waiting, for her life to be all over; when she will be home with you. To sit on that beautiful shore.

We know it was hard to give her up. One so good and true, But know she is waiting at the golden gate for her friends and you.

God bless this mourning hour, When hearts are wounded and sore, May he meet his dear one to part no more. L. M. Me.

WORLD'S FAIR HOTELS

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1893.

LOTS OF LANDLORDS.

NO LACK OF WORLD'S FAIR HOTELS.

Ample Accommodations For All Classes.

An Estimate of the Cost of Living in Chicago - Positive For Prospective Visitors.

It looks now as if the landlords would meet the sympathy rather than their guests during the World's fair. One of the Chicago papers has been gathering statistics and announces that 988 new buildings have been erected in the vicinity of Jackson park, which contains 35,945 rooms. This of course is exclusive of the old hotels and boarding houses and of the "furnished houses" which are available for transient use during the month of the fair. Doubtless there are 30,000 rooms available for strangers near the grounds. There will be no more reason for people to sleep on the ground, or even on hotel cots, provided they have money enough to procure lodging, and the indications are that the amount required to secure such accommodation will not be exorbitant. Competition will force a reasonable scale.

Talculated by their capacity to accommodate guests, the World's fair hotels make up this list:

Estimates as to the cost of the hotels in the World's fair district range from $1,500,000 to $4,000,000. Well known builders who have been over the ground state that the latter figures are not too high. It would be interesting if the amount of money received by the hotel companies in advance payment for accommodations could be compared. Only here and there will their offers give out the figures. Those who have had much to do with the enterprises on the outside give the total at about $1,500,000. From the sale of memberships alone one so called club took in $100,000. Well known improvements are pointed out as having been made with the money received from agents, who have secured accommodations from one end of the country to the other.

In architecture there is an almost limitless range. The temporary structures are of wood or of steel. Where the buildings are to be permanent, the large family hotels or apartment houses entered largely into the construction. The largest of these is the Great Eastern, which will have 1,100 rooms and will cover a space 300 by 600 feet. While it is undoubtedly true that a number of the more magnificent of the newly made buildings of Chicago are overcharge or overdue money guests, the fact remains that no visitor who goes to Chicago with plans well matured and uses ordinary discretion will be subjected to extortion. Those who use no forethought must not complain if they meet trouble.

The best hotels will not advance rates, and in fact there is every evidence that Chicago intends to display unselfish hospitality to all comers. The Palmer House some time ago set an excellent example by posting a notice that there would be no advance in prices on account of the World's fair and that the rates during that period; also that contracts for rooms would be entered into at once. Some of the highest class apartment houses served notice on their tenants that rents would be raised May 1 for all houses running at less than $100 a month. There may be some hotels whose proprietors will be so short sighted and greedy enough to increase their prices for the general disposition to adopt the same plan as that of the Palmer House and charge only regular rates.

Those who contemplate visiting the exposition can make arrangements for their rooms at prices to suit themselves. They can spend 30 cents for a bed or secure a luxurious apartment for $5 per night. For a comfortable bed in a clean and airy room can be secured for two persons. Rooms can be selected without difficulty a few hours after arriving in the city, for extensive preparations are being made to rent rooms, and hundreds of houses will be found on nearly every residential street where rooms can be secured.

Concerning the cost of meals, would be visitors should first consult their appetites. A breakfast of coffee, rolls and a sandwich will cost 15 cents in the downtown restaurants. A supper with "caviar" Breads at the Richman, 100
